Daily Resistance #11 is out!

Daily Resistance

Finally, a new issue of Refugee Activists' Newspaper Daily Resistance has been released – this time as a wallpaper in 12 A3 sheets that can be glued and taped to the wall. As always, it comes in many languages (French, Arabic, Farsi, Turkish, English, German, Russian). The issue features the recent protest camp at O-Platz, the Kurdish and Palestinian struggle, reports, and articles on Disability Justice, as well as actions in front of Ausländerbehörde or against racism against Black refugees in Tunisia, among others.

Order your copies via e-mail (dailyresistance [AT] systemli.org)! Or see and download the online version (print and web) as a PDF here: https://www.oplatz.net/daily-resistance-11-is-out/

DAILY RESISTANCE is a communal newspaper written by activists of the Refugee Movement to inform about resistance against the asylum and camp system in Germany and Europe and to support people in their daily struggle for their rights. It was founded 2015 by activist of the Refugee Movement. We are a diverse group of people in Berlin who fight against isolation, lagers, and the border regime.
